SEA OYSTER SCRUB MASK

Accumulation of Keratin layers and dead cells on skin causes the skin to become dull. Therefore, to restore the clarity, freshness and evenness of the skin, it is necessary to remove these layers from the skin surface on a regular basis. Scrubs are one of the most effective and suitable options for this purpose. The scrub exfoliates and softens the skin and has a similar effect to exfoliating and cleansing devices (microdermabrasion). Scrub deeply cleanses pores, enhances cell regeneration and makes skin soft, supple and clear. The presence of solid peeling grains inside the scrub, which can be decomposed by skin massage, completes the skin cleansing process. L'DORA Exfoliating Scrub is an effective and suitable product for cleansing and regenerating the skin. Glycerin hydrates the skin and maintains its natural moisture, freshness and vitality. Aloe vera extract is a soothing and beautifying substance that helps to have healthy and fresh skin and repairs its damage. Its anti-inflammatory substances are also useful for removing blemishes, pimples and other skin problems. The combination of this extract with other effective substances in this scrub improves the health of the skin. The collagen in this scrub is very suitable for maintaining elasticity and firmness and reduces the skin's aging process.

Ginseng extract (anti-aging plant) is another effective substance in this scrub that activates the skin's metabolism. This plant protects the skin against free radicals and environmental pollution. The oyster extract used in this scrub helps to maintain the skin's collagen level and makes it youthful and fresh. Also, this extract is very effective in having smooth and clear skin by cleansing the skin's pores. Another substance in L'DORA scrub is allantoin. With its healing properties, it prevents inflammation and damage to the skin during cleansing. D panthenol is also one of the substances used in this scrub, which makes the skin soft, supple and maintains its youth and health. In addition to all the mentioned ingredients, a number of amino acids needed by the skin (10 types of amino acids that the body is not able to make naturally) have been added to strengthen and nourish the skin in this scrub. Amino acids are very effective in increasing protein and collagen production and reduces the process of cellular aging.
